Pipeline Relocation Affects Water Supply

Today, Wednesday May 12, the National Water Commission (NWC) will be collaborating with the National Works Agency (NWA) and its contractors to relocate water supply pipelines in the vicinity of the overpass along Washington Boulevard/Dunrobin Avenue.

The work is being planned to coincide with a period of drought-induced no water supply in the Dunrobin Avenue and Constant Spring Gardens area so as to reduce inconvenience to NWC customers. It is expected that the work will be completed by Wednesday night, in time to allow piped water to be restored to the area on Thursday.
