

THANK YOU RED STRIPE

Following Hurricane Ivan Red Stripe Limited made a donation of $100,000,000.00 to fund a number of water supply projects across the island. The National Water Commission would love to express our thanks.

Hurricane Ivan Recovery Contribution

The Chairman and members of the Board of Commissioners, Management and staff of the National Water Commission, wish to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to Red Stripe and the Diageo Foundation for its most generous and timely commitment of $100 million towards the restoration and improvement of water supply service to communities most severely affected by the ravages of Hurricane Ivan.

This contribution will greatly assist in our continued, strenuous efforts to speedily restore piped water supply to all of our valued customers across the country.

Once again, many thanks to Red Stripe and the Diageo Foundation from the National Water Commission.

Thanks

*Water is life
serving you in so many ways*

100 Million Thanks! That's what NWC president, E.G. Hunter seems to be saying to (l-r) Mark McKenzie, Managing Director and Hans Van Lierop, Finance Director of Red Stripe after receiving a cheque for Twenty-Five Million Dollars. This amount represents part of a $100 Million commitment by Red Stripe and the Diageo Foundation for the restoration and improvement of water supply service to communities most severely affected by the ravages of Hurricane Ivan.

This contribution will greatly assist in the NWC's continued, strenuous efforts to speedily restore piped water supply to its valued customers across the country. Repairs and improvement works have already commenced on a number of systems as a result of the funds provided.
